MONTALA

Presented by
THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY
Montevallo High School
Montevallo, Alabama

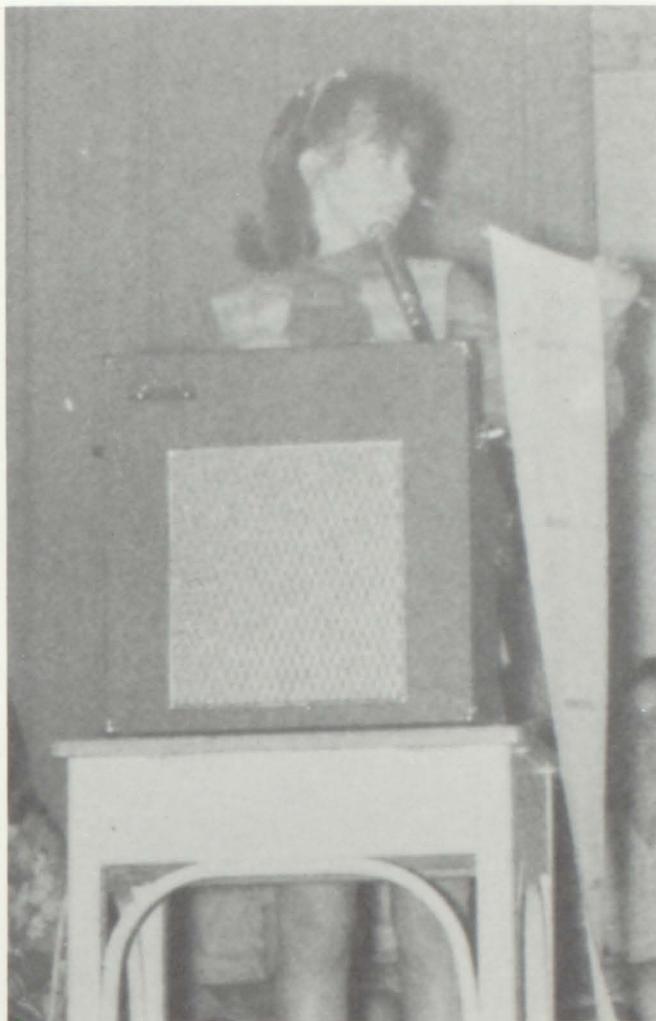

Forming their images pine trees cast shadows on Montevallo High School.

Reflections Echo Year

Reflections accurately represent as they actually reproduce models. Not only are there effigies portraying physical characteristics but also those transcribing deeper qualities. Through these "imitated" pictures a school may be captured and reflected giving views of its surface and profound images.

Trophy case produces likenesses of admiring students.

Student Council campaigns are symbols of candidates.

Becoming a wet mirror, a sidewalk reflects rain, girls, and umbrellas.

Mr. Milford Retires

High standards of MHS administration maintain library accreditation.

Old Glory is treated with respect.

His Influence Remains

MHS studies and activities reflect the accomplishments of Mr. Guy Milford during his 18 years as principal and teacher. Now as he retires his achievements will be remembered by all and will continuously inspire students to strive for perfection. Knowing he created the Montevallo Chapter of National Honor Society and helped re-establish production of the yearbook, we, the MONTALA Staff, proudly dedicate this edition to Mr. Milford.

Adelle Simpson, National Merit semi-finalist

Honor Ribbons presented by NHS compliment scholars.

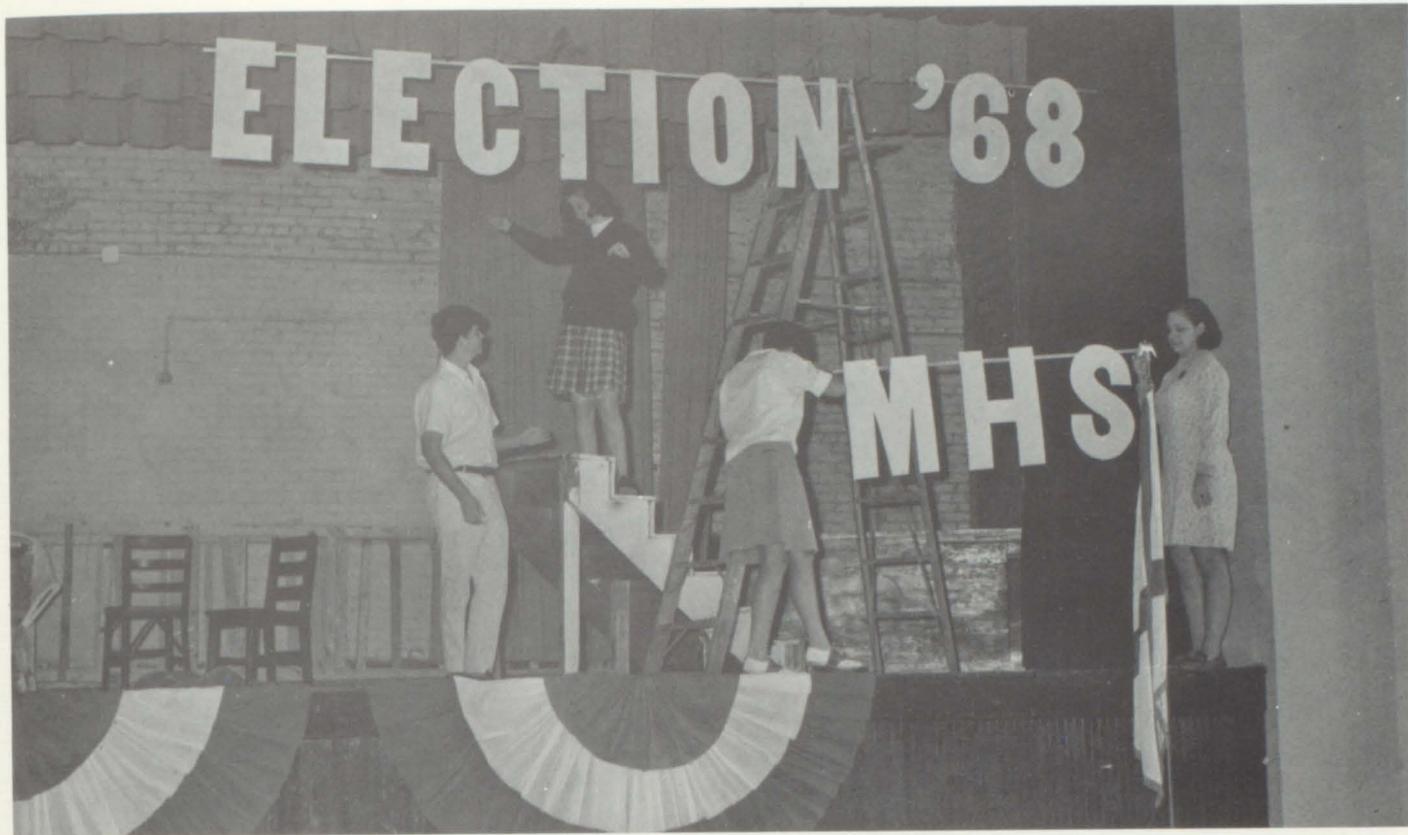

Actions of athletes form opinions of MHS.

Guidance counselor advises student.

Facial expressions show thoughts.

Giving imitations of "what's to come," students prepare for Homecoming.

Image of MHS Mirrored

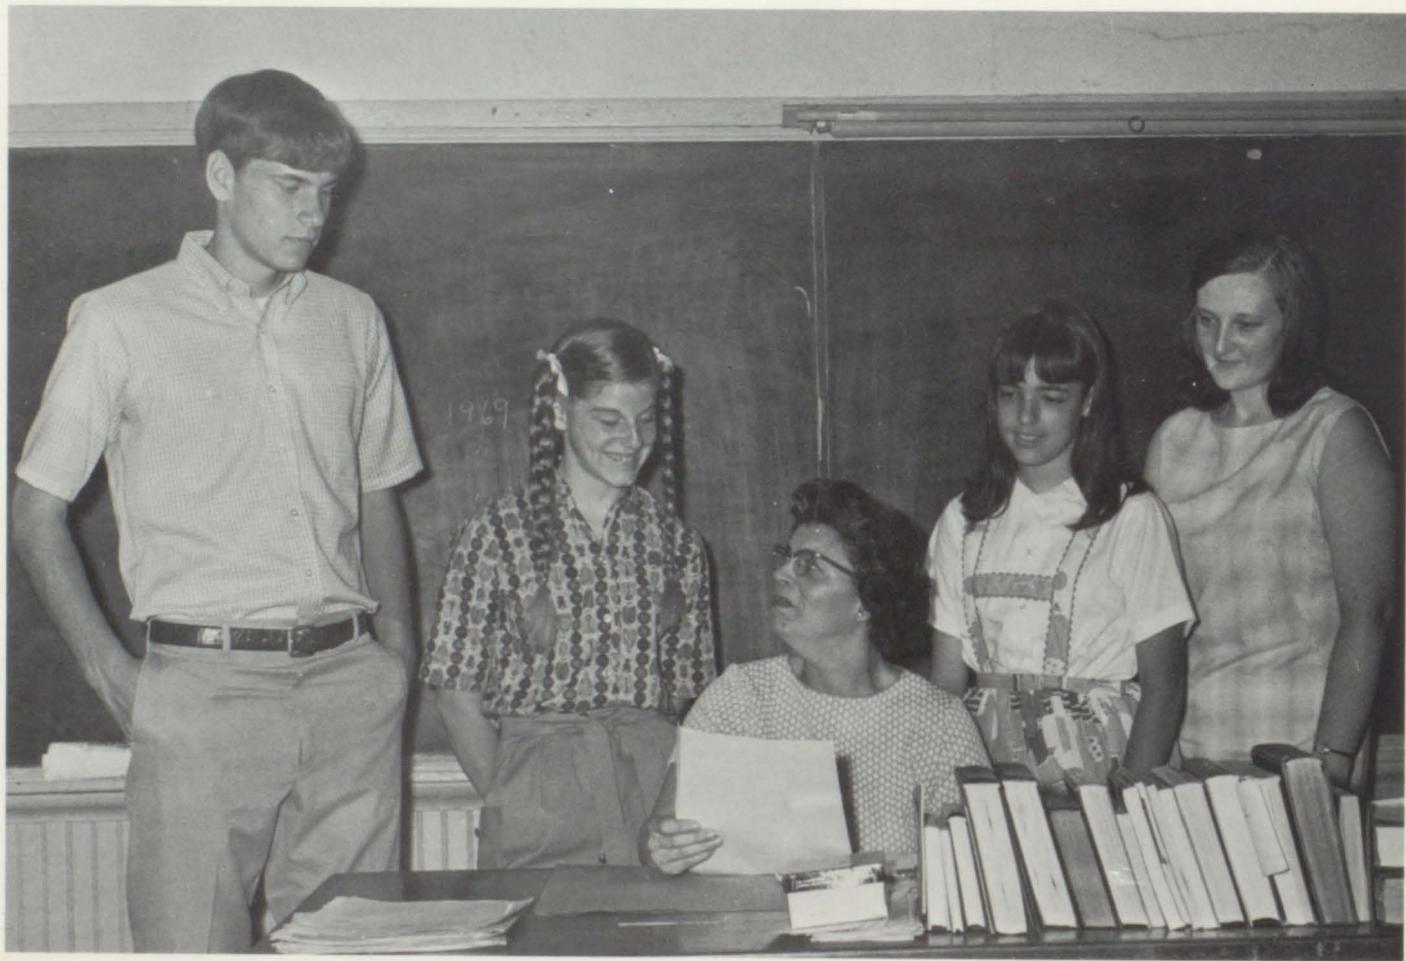

Just as light and sound reflect so may the faculty and staff, students, school life, athletics, and advertising give an image of the school they represent.

Entertaining at pep rallies, band members follow director.

Helping pupils discover "why" for themselves and giving encouragement to students' efforts, the MHS faculty not only teaches but also builds character and individuality. Reflecting this guidance and leadership given them, honor winners, Eddie Lovelady, Debbie Garrett, Conchita Hernandez, and Teresa Jackson confer with Teacher Frances Anthony.

Faculty and Staff

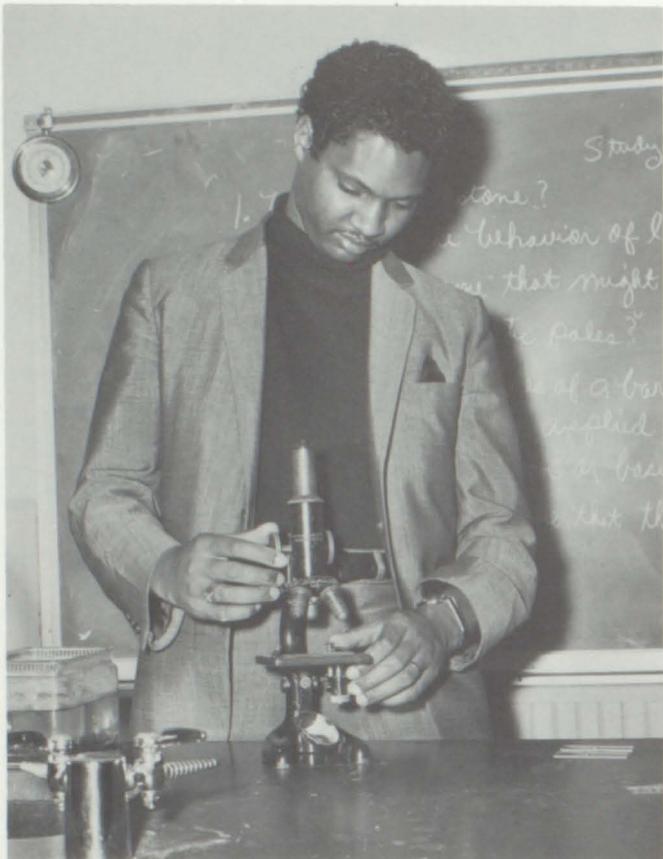

Mr. Guy Milford -- MHS principal and school director.

Mr. W. C. Corbett -- assistant principal, coach, counselor.

Tri-Hi-Y president Sharon Winslett plans special program with teachers.

Mr. Arthur Greenlea -- Science, Chemistry, Biology

Mr. Douglas Morris -- Jr. Math

Mrs. Betty Smith -- Science, Math

Mrs. Emily Pendleton -- Jr. High Science

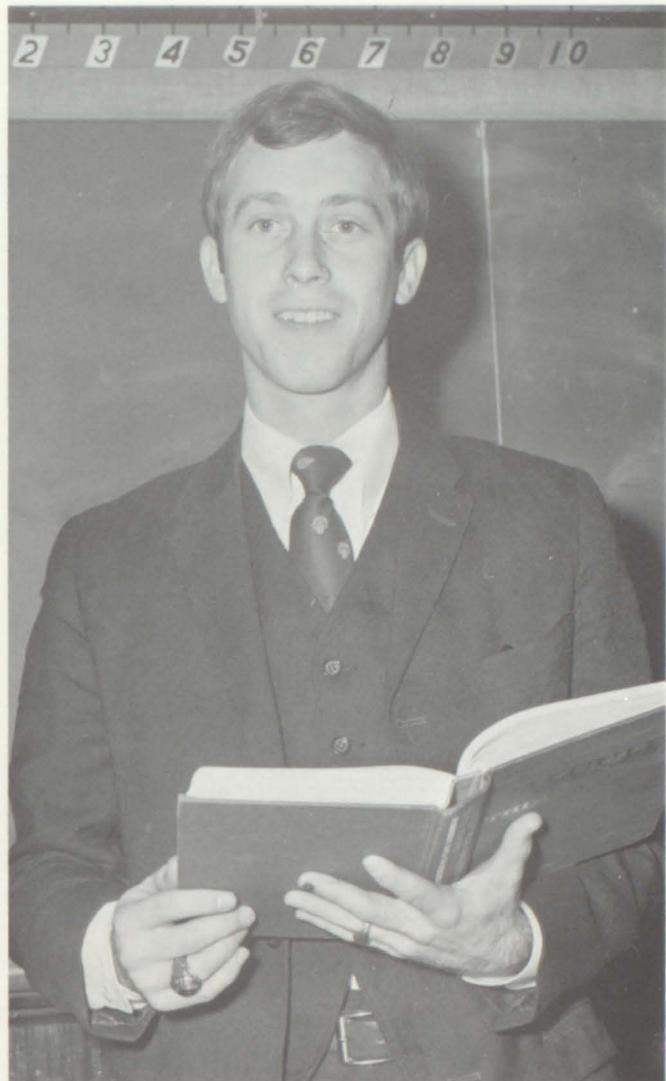

Instructors Aid Studies

Daily students ask questions as they strive to learn while furthering their education. The answers given by instructors parallel to the preparations to teach by MHS faculty members. Perhaps math and science are the two courses which most require teachers having a love for the subject, knowledge of the material, and an open, alert mind. However, even a well-informed person may lack wisdom in some areas of a study; here the library can offer help.

Miss Kathryn Farrington -- First Semester Sr. Math

Mr. Terry Goodwin -- Second Semester Sr. High Math

Mrs. Anne Milford, Mrs. Naomi Langford,
-- Librarians

Mrs. Barbara Belisle -- Jr. High History, English

Mrs. Kathlyn McGlown -- Bookkeeping, History

Being active in school, community, and religious affairs, teachers set examples for MHS'ers. The leadership and cooperative qualities they practice at these activities are also present in the classroom. These characteristics in addition to their teaching abilities capture student's admiration and respect for the faculty.

Teachers Help Students

Mrs. Juraline Stoudemire -- Jr. High History, English

Mrs. Peggy Hill -- Business law, History, Geography

Miss Susie DeMent -- Typing and Shorthand

Helping develop future executives, business instructors expound vocational objectives. Other teachers add to the pupil's knowledge by showing the past in history courses. Not only are historical events but also current happenings taught. In addition to these facts given them in classes, scholars are coached in physical and sport activities.

Mrs. Peggy Green -- History, Economics, Democracy

in Many Areas Each Day

Mrs. Betty Yancey -- Girls' P.E., Cheerleader Sponsor

Mr. Charles Martin -- Coach, P.E., Drivers' Ed.

Mrs. Maenolia McGraw -- Junior High English

Mrs. Hazel Sharp -- Latin I and II Instructor

Mrs. Doris Lien -- Band and Chorus Director

Mrs. Ann Parker -- Remedial Reading, Sr. I English

Mrs. Carolyn Edfeldt -- English, Journalism

Literature Opens Door

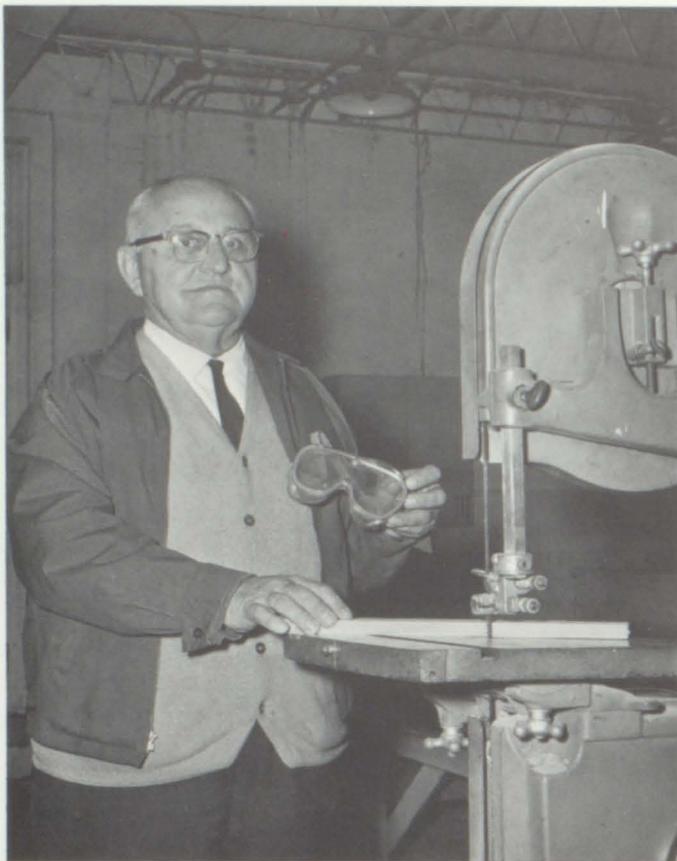

Unlocking gates to unknown worlds, English teachers conduct extensive studies of literature. Poetry, plays, short stories, and even novels become familiar to their classes as the surface and underlying meanings of selections are discussed. Some of the characters met in these works are also greeted again in Latin, MHS's only foreign language course. Both of these subjects give images of life in past years through famous authors. Montevallo High's reflection is given also but with a different approach in its marching band.

Mrs. Frances Anthony -- Sr. II, III English, Sr. Sponsor

Mr. Edward Robinson -- Jr. High English, History

Mr. Melton Thornton -- Agriculture, Vocational Work

Faculty Aids

Under the direction of qualified instructors, home economics and agriculture students work in a building especially equipped for their use. Boys in agriculture classes not only receive information in many areas but also encouragement to help with school maintainance. Added to the regular teachings of roles of a homemaker, was a child development study this year. Many home economics principles are practiced daily in the MHS cafeteria.

Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Allen, Mr. Riffe -- Cafeteria

Individuals

Throughout the school year students receive help from many places. Librarians, the cafeteria staff, and administrative officials each contribute. Secretaries in the office spend many hours preparing records which are essential. Hours are spent by teachers who guide the formation of character and the building of skills in their pupils. As the results are reaped in, not by these who have stood on the sidelines but by the scholars either in high school or college (perhaps even in later years for some) they portray the time instructors have spent.

Mrs. Rebecca McGaughy -- Home Economics, FHA Sponsor

Mrs. Opal Long -- Office Secretary

Mrs. Martha McClure -- Secretary

Perhaps more reflections are made by students than from any other area. They are in fact, the most important image and part of Montevallo High. For, without them, the Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores, Freshmen, and eighth and seventh graders, there would be no need for its operation. The entire faculty and staff are working for them and all activities are also produced for these pupils. Daily they begin with an active homeroom, later attend and participate in classes, and between times crowd the halls chatting with friends -- making MHS what it is.

Attending classes and studying are important at MHS, but they are not completely time consuming. Extracurricular activities include several big events, club and class meetings, and publications produced during after school hours. Students realize however, that before any affairs but especially occasions such as Homecoming and the Valentine Dance, much work must be done. These extra hours reflect the cooperation, willingness, school spirit, and dedication of MHS'ers.

Council Aids Community Chest

The Student Council is composed of elected members from each homeroom in grades nine through twelve. In addition, representatives are appointed from the seventh and eighth grades to meet with the organization. This group sponsored Homecoming activities, operated the supply store and presided at all school-wide assemblies. It also equipped MHS with a new flagpole and sponsored the Community Chest Drive.

President Jimmy Brown leads discussion of Community Chest campaign.

Student Council members check out new flagpole which they purchased.

Homecoming Queen Phyllis Bearden is crowned by Student Council president.

As athletes compete in sports events their abilities and sportsmanship act as mirrors reflecting MHS. Encouraged by cheering fans and instructions from coaches they strive to raise the MHS score above the one of their opponents. The battle to do this inflames school spirit from supporters and stimulates teamwork from the players. However, this doesn't insure a victory and defeat sometimes moves in. Both are necessary to complete the sports picture.

31 Hit the Gridiron

I. Opening the 1968 season at home, MHS dropped a loss in the final minutes of the game to Vincent's Yellowjackets. Vincent scored early but the Bulldogs tied the score on a 65 yard interception return by Wayne Majors. The 'Dogs moved ahead on a seven yard pass from Jimmy Brown to Ray Bearden before the 'Jackets pulled out a 14-13 win.

II. MHS traveled to Chelsea defeating the Hornets by a school-record of 64-12. Roy Goggins and Wayne Majors led the way with three touchdowns each while M.J. Ottis added two. Ray Bearden and Jimmy Brown also scored as the 'Dogs racked up 10 touchdowns.

III. On Sept. 20, before a standing-room only crowd at home, the Bulldogs scalped Thompson's Warriors for the first time in six years. MHS took command early when Roy Goggins scored from three yards out following the opening kickoff; Wayne Majors then returned an intercepted pass 85 yards for another six. Thompson scored once but the 'Dogs staged several goal line stands in the final quarter to win 14-7.

IV. In the fourth game of the season the Bulldogs found themselves in the "Land of the Giants" as they fell to a powerful team of Clanton Tigers 26-14. The highlight of the evening was a 64 yard touchdown pass from Jimmy Brown to Bruce Reynolds. Brown also scored on a short plunge but the Tigers hit the goal line four times to take the decision.

V. The Bulldogs spoiled Jemison's Homecoming as they squeezed by the Panthers 14-7. Jemison scored early but MHS jumped out front in the second quarter on a four yard run by Jimmy Brown and a 23 yard sprint by Wayne Majors. The second half was a defensive struggle with neither team scoring.

VI. On Oct. 11 at the '68 Homecoming Game the Bulldogs put up a tremendous effort but were beaten by the B.B. Comer Tigers. The Bulldogs threatened to score early but their attempts failed until the second quarter. Comer failed to gain a first down until moments before the half when they scored. Grabbing another touchdown once more late in the game they handed MHS a tough 14-7 defeat.

IX. The bowl-bound West Blocton Tigers came into Montevallo defeating the Bulldogs 27-13. After Blocton scored early the 'Dogs knotted the score on a nine yard pass from Jimmy Brown to Bruce Reynolds. The Tigers built up a 27-7 lead before MHS ended the scoring on an 18 yard toss from Brown to Roy Goggins.

X. In the final game of the season MHS was shut-out by the Oak Grove Tigers 14-0. Oak Grove scored in each of the first two quarters but was stopped cold in the second half by a stubborn Bulldog defense.

VII. In the seventh game, Columbiana, co-champions of the Shelby County Conference, defeated MHS 34-7. Dwight Bentley led the Wildcats with three touchdowns. Roy Goggins accounted for MHS points by scoring from 35 yards out on a blocked punt and kicking the extra point.

VIII. The next week MHS battled another county opponent, Calera's Eagles. It was a defensive struggle until the third quarter when Jimmy Brown circled left end from seven yards out to tie the score 7-7. The scoring picked up as Brown hit Ray Bearden and Bruce Reynolds with scoring strikes, but the Eagles scored three more times to record a 27-20 victory.

68 Football Season as Bulldog Head Coach

Goggins, Brown Make Conference

At the end of the 1968 season senior quarterback Jimmy Brown and junior fullback Roy Goggins were named to the Mid-State All Conference Football Team. It was the second consecutive year for Brown to make the team.

Brown (left) gives Goggins MHS's football which they carried during '68 season. Goggins led the Bulldogs' scoring with 52 points.

Cagers Have 17-11 Record

Danny Wyatt (11) meets opposition in Thompson game.

MHS closed out the basketball season with a 17-11 record, a vast improvement over last year's 9-14 mark. The 'Dogs also picked up three trophies along the way, finishing second in the Thompson Invitational Tournament, third in the Mid-State Conference Tournament, and third in the Shelby County Meet. Seniors on this year's team are Jimmy Brown, Eddie Lovelady, Gary Richardson, Bobby Scott, and Mike Sims.

'68 Basketball Scoring

Adding to his record, Surface shoots again.

Lovelady led the team in scoring with 606 points for an average of 21.5 per game. Eddie was recognized as an "All-Stater" by the BIRMINGHAM POST HERALD and was named to the Conference, County, and Area Tournament teams for a second straight year. Junior Jimmy Surface was second in scoring with 443 points and a 16.4 points per game average. Surface was named All-County and received honorable mention for the All-Conference selection. He also led the team in rebounds with 300. Lovelady was second in rebounding with 260 grabs.

Scorekeeper Susis DeMent checks records with leading scorer Eddie Lovelady.

Baseball Team Captures Title

This year's Bulldog squad captured the school's fourth consecutive Shelby County title while compiling an 8-4 record. The team also finished second to Childersburg in the Mid-State Conference. It was the second year as baseball coach for Cratie Corbett. He received fine leadership from seniors David Bennett, Jimmy Brown, Eddie Lovelady, Bob Scott, Mike Sims, and William White. Junior Charles Stano led the club with a .422 average, 19 runs batted, and 3 home runs, including a grand slam. Jimmy Brown scored the most runs—17—and posted a 4-2 pitching record. Stano also recorded a 3-2 pitching slate. At the conclusion of the regular season David Bennett, Jimmy Brown, and Mike Sims were chosen to represent MHS at the East-Week Game in Clanton.

Seniors David Bennett, Jimmy Brown, and William White have completed four years in the MHS baseball team helping compile a 41-14 record. Also during this time the Bulldogs were County Champions four times and took second and third places in the Mid-State Conference.

Advertisers reflect the interest of Montevallo merchants in our high school. Most are those who continually aid student activities throughout each school year. Doing more than helping financially, they cheer along with MHS'ers at ball games, lend a sympathetic ear during exams, and finally smile with pride at such achievements as that of the Senior members of the National Honor Society. The advertisers are always supporting us like Dusty, Senior David Bennett's dog, who has attended school daily with the Class of '69 since the seventh grade.
